

Subchapter 1. Administration and General Provisions

1-3. POLICY

a. Proper use. The Department of Transportation will utilize experts and consultants only when advisory and expert judgments of those possessing exceptional qualifications, skills, and knowledges are needed to strengthen the activities of the Department, when the required expertise is not available from within the Department or other agencies, and when the needed services are of such a nature that requirements can be met by temporary (1 year or less) or intermittent employment.
